TEXAS

COMMISSION
REAL PLACES TELLING REAL STORIES

Established in 2021, THGAAC has directly driven Texas' unprecedented national leadership in combating and confronting antisemitism and served as the "eyes and ears" for state leaders in recognizing and fighting Jew-hatred.

Texas will always support Israel and the Jewish people, and I thank the THGAAC for swiftly answering my call to research ways we can continue to combat antisemitism across our state.

— Gov. Greg Abbott

Deep Commitment

- ✔ Partners with and offers grants to community organizations and museums for programs and outreach.
- ✔ Supports schools around Holocaust Remembrance Week and conducted a statewide survey on K-12 Holocaust education.
- ✔ Conducts biennial Study on Antisemitism with recommendations for new laws, policies, and investment.
- ✔ Educates Texans about genocides in order to prevent such future atrocities.

Real Impact

THGAAC's recommendations and input have directly resulted in:

- ✔ A law prohibiting public colleges from implementing boycotts of study abroad or research programs in Israel or other nations.
- ✔ An executive order from the governor fighting acts of antisemitism at colleges and universities and ensuring a safe learning environment for Jewish students and all Texans.

Fully Empowered

After the Oct. 7, 2023 Hamas attacks on Israel, Gov. Abbott hosted an emergency meeting at the Capitol and directed THGAAC to:
